Advertise With MMA Fight Space!

Introduction

Do you want your ad to be viewed each month? Since the day we launched the site, we have seen our numbers grow at an increasing rate. We have reached a point now where we can really help you promote your business. Unlike other forms of mass market advertising, we will put you in the face of your target demographic in seconds.

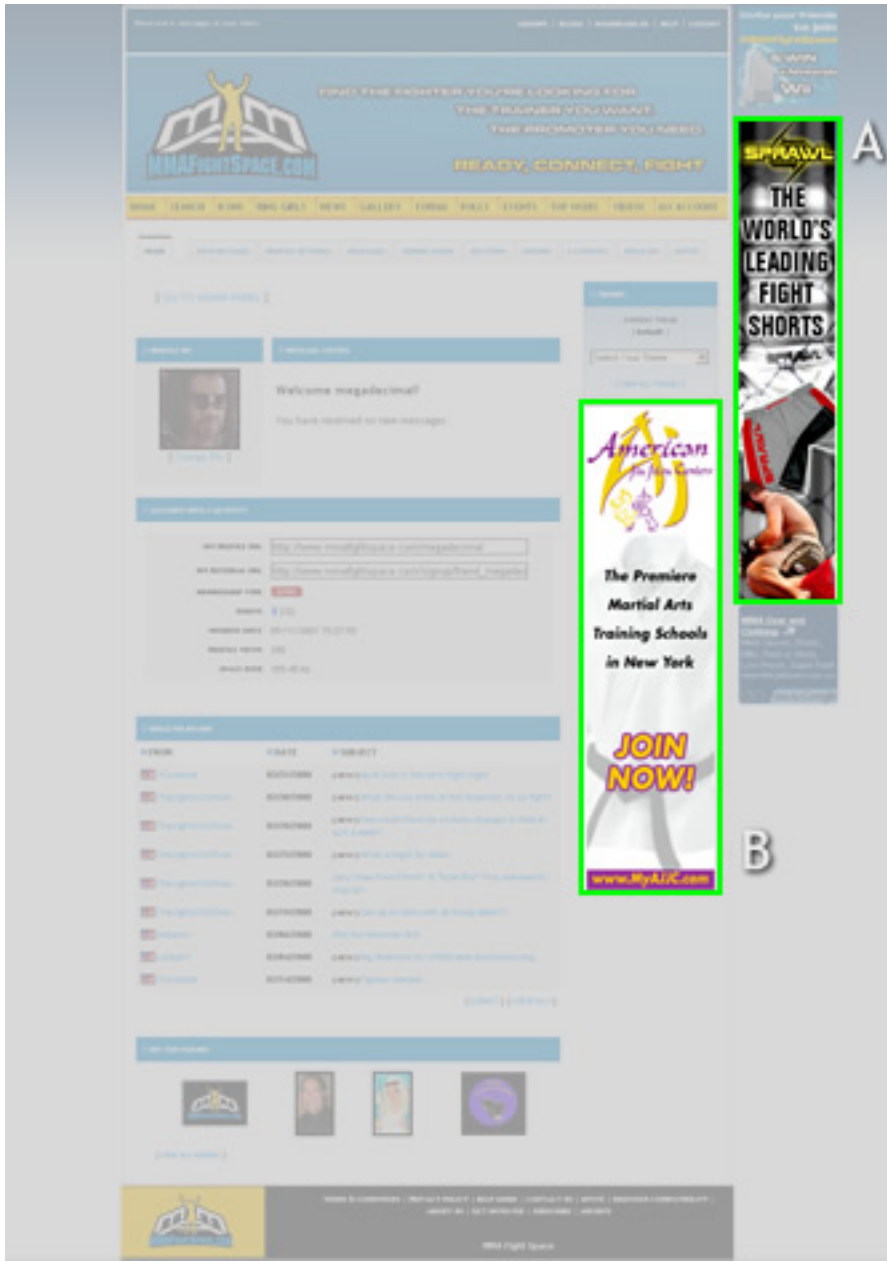

What is MMA Fight Space?

MMA FIGHT SPACE is the full contact network dedicated to the fighting community. First and foremost, it is place for fighters of all styles, MMA, Boxing, Muay Thai, Kickboxing, Wrestling, Submission Grappling/BJJ and others, to gather in one place to be discovered. Members can create free profiles and share their records, events, schedules, photos, videos, statistics, interests and more. The fighters can then be found by promoters, coaches, teams and fans. MMA Fight Space also welcomes officials, sanctioning bodies, suppliers, ring girls, reporters and commentators. Members can keep up with recent news and events, check in on other members, network with the rest of the combat sports community, post their new results and goals, write in our forums and blogs and much more.

Why should I advertise with MMA Fight Space?

This makes MMAFightSpace.com the ideal advertising solution for your company--a core audience of 18-34 year old males with a declared interest in combat sports. Plus a network of registered members that is loyal and also consists of the core audience plus a 12% female membership, which opens a lucrative market. In other words, there are no "wasted" hits on MMA Fight Space. Every single visitor is interested in combat sports.

We also offer other targeted advertising options.

Your ad can be placed in one of our Quarterly newsletters that goes out to all registered members and certain affiliates.

Want to advertise an event? You can be one of the featured events on the site! Your event will be prominently displayed on the home page and at the top of the events schedule.

Another option is for your standard-size banner ad to exclusively occupy a spot (without rotation). Additionally, an affordable option is for us to help you create a special profile for your business and/or product, with an additional option of being one of the featured members for a period of time.

Act Now!

Our traffic and membership continue to grow at an ever increasing pace as the site rolls out new and exciting features. The popularity and penetration of MMA are also driving our growth. For now, we offer introductory low rates (but, act quickly, this will not last).

For specific pricing information not displayed above, please email us at admin@mmafightspace.com. We look forward to working with you!
